DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (IF KNOWN) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

526 Orkney Road is a five bay , two story wooden frame building. Its slate shingled, gabled roof is decorated with a chimney at the exterior left and at the back side right. Projecting from the roof is a large, three bay shed dormer with five windows. Two sets of double windows flank a window in the central dormer bay. Under the plain cornice of the roof trim is a recession of the three right bays in the second and first stories. The windows of the first and second stories are shuttered and have small entablatures. All the windows of the front facade are double hung with 1/1 lights and simple surrounds. The main entrance in the first story central bay is surrounded with a flat-topped transom and side panels. A one story veranda, supported by six piers in the front, follows the contours of the building from the front around to the right side.

526 Orkney Road is located on a relatively quiet side street one block east of York Road. It is within the York-Belvedere Primary Study Action Area.

BUILDER/ARCHITECT

STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

526 Orkney Road was built near the turn of the century for Robert Hockaday, General Manager of the Chesapeake Belting Company. It was among the earlier and largest homes of the York-Belvedere area. The house was also owned for a while by a physician named Edward B. Beasley.

The acreage of 526 Orkney Road is currently owned by Hoschild Kohn and Company which intends to sell this property. The present zoned use of the property and large size of the building make the site impractical for residential use. In order to save this handsome and atypical house a new economical use must soon be found.
